Situated far in the north of the exclusive Nsefu sector in the South Luangwa National Park, is one of the historic camps of Zambia, Nsefu. Sited on a sweeping bend of the Luangwa River, Nsefu has superb river views and overlooks a productive waterhole in this outstanding game-viewing area.

Nsefu accommodates 12 guests in 6 traditional thatch roof rondavals, one double and five twins. The rondavals have been beautifully restored, are whitewashed with a nostalgic vibe. Each rondaval has a clear view of the river through large windows from the comfort of your bed or the chairs out on the wooden verandah. There are spacious, semi-open air en-suite facilities with a basin and shower and beds are draped with mosquito nets. The bar and sitting area sit snugly between a large termite mound and lagoon, making the most of the extensive wildlife that comes to the lagoon to drink. Thatched central spaces enjoy panoramic river views. The camp is run on solar power along with a back-up generator for cloudy days. Activities at Nsefu include day and night game drives, walking safaris, seasonal boating (end December to April), village/cultural tours and Tribal Textiles for locally produced hand-painted textiles.
